For details, please check the NIH Guide Notice NOT-OD-11-102 and also review the full program description and instructions on how to apply at <http://grants.nih.gov/grants/funding/cap/index.htm>. Applications accepted through September 1, 2011.

-- SBIR.gov Re-launched

On August 1, 2011, the following announcement regarding the launching of the re-designed sbir.gov website was posted:

Re-launching SBIR.gov

The new SBIR.gov is here! With a comprehensive database, robust search engine, user-friendly designer, and useful new content, the new SBIR.gov will help small businesses that are part of or may become part of the SBIR or STTR programs. Here's a quick overview:

One-stop Shop for Small Businesses

SBIR.gov is designed to help small businesses connect with agencies as part of the Small Business Innovation Research Program (SBIR) and the Small Business Technology Transfer Program (STTR). It is a "one-stop-shop" if you are a small business interested in responding to an agency solicitation for innovative research and development. Agencies and prime contractors looking for eligible small businesses may also find the site useful.

Better Search of Awards and Solicitations

The new SBIR.gov features a single database of all awards and solicitations. You can now search solicitations and awards across all 11 participating agencies. In addition to locating everything in one place, the new database allows you to filter awards and solicitations by multiple criteria, including agency, year, phase, program, state, and company.

Company Profiles

The new SBIR.gov allows you to view detailed information for companies who have won awards. This includes the number and amount of awards they have received as well as in-depth descriptions of each award.

Updated FAQ's

Our Frequently Asked Questions help newcomers to the SBIR/STTR programs answer basic questions about whether they are eligible for the program and how it works.

Reporting Functionality

The SBIR/STTR Awards feature presents Awards information in graphical and tabular views, along with faceted search functions.

Calendar of Events

Agencies host events all year long to promote SBIR programs and assist potential awardees. Find events in your area and for the agencies you care about on the new SBIR.gov.

Celebrate Success

Some of the great America success stories start with the SBIR program. Read the success stories of small businesses that leveraged SBIR awards to develop successful commercial products, create good jobs, and sustain our entrepreneurial spirit.

CONFERENCES AND WORKSHOPS

NATIONAL

2011 National SBIR Beyond Phase II Conference & Technology Showcase -- Atlanta, GA, September 12-15, 2011. The Beyond Phase II Conference showcases the SBIR Program's Phase II awardees' technologies and provides a forum for commercialization opportunities. The event brings together current SBIR Phase II companies, key technology and acquisition personnel from government and industry to enable the transition of SBIR-funded research and development into products for military, government and private sector commercial markets. This event is the only national SBIR event focusing on transitioning advanced SBIR research and development into commercialization opportunities.

For more information, visit <https://www.beyondphaseii.com>, or contact Lindsay Padilla at (703) 412-3653 or Andy Talbert at (703) 412-3152, or conference@esncc.com. Note that as a courtesy to Phase II firms, the early conference registration (savings of $100) has been extended to Friday, August 26, 2011 to coincide with the closing of the Phase II Matchmaking system.

2011 National SBIR/STTR Fall Conference -- New Orleans, LA, November 6-9, 2011. The 2011 National SBIR/STTR Conference will offer R&D project managers and technology based businesses the opportunity to network and share ideas with the federal agency representatives, prime contractors/corporate organizations, service providers from across the nation, universities and federal labs. For more information, including agenda, speakers, registration, etc., visit <http://www.sbirla.org/>.
