

TECHNOLOGY TEST DRIVE

Exploratory license provides six-month technology access

U.S. businesses have a quick and easy method to test drive promising technologies through a user-friendly commercialization option offered at Pacific Northwest National Laboratory. The Exploratory License features:

A six-month license to explore how a patented technology fits within your product offerings and business.

A non-exclusive option to the patent preventing the technology or software from being licensed exclusively to others.

Simple terms, including a one-page document that takes minutes to complete, doesn't require negotiating, and costs just $1,000.

A quick approval that typically takes less than two weeks.
