

Alexander Godinez-Robinson

Federal Program Manager

NNSA Graduate Fellowship Program (NGFP) &
NNSA Minority Serving Institutions Internship Program (MSIIP)

National Nuclear Security Administration (NNSA)
U.S. Department of Energy (DOE)

Alexander graduated from the University of California, Santa Barbara, in June of 2015, receiving a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science, with a focus in International Relations and Comparative Politics. Alexander pursued a graduate degree from the University of Kent in Canterbury, England, receiving a Master of Arts in Security and Terrorism, graduating with Merit. He also completed a second graduate program at the University College London, receiving a Master of Science in International Public Policy.

Alexander participated in the NNSA Graduate Fellowship Program \(NGFP\) with the 2019-2020 cohort, working in the Office of Material Management and Minimization (NA-23). At the end of his fellowship, he was hired into the Office of Management and Budget's (NA-MB-40) Learning and Career Management (LCM) and has served worked his way up as the NGFP Operations Manager & Strategic Advisor and Deputy Federal Program Manager. Since 2023, he has been the Federal Program Manager for NGFP.

Additionally, Alexander designed and implemented the NNSA Minority Serving Institutions Internship Program \(MSIIP\) for the NNSA in 2021 and has served as the Federal Program Manager since its establishment.

Alexander also has extensive experience working in education, especially with nonprofits, and in local and state governments. Additionally, Alexander volunteers every summer in California to work with high school and college leadership students to train them on leadership development principles. He is also a certified Myers-Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI) administrator and Gallup-Certified Strengths Coach.

Alexander can be reached at alexander.godinez-robinson@nnsa.doe.gov.